

THETA DELTA CHI

HANS J. HENNECKE
President

- PAUL E. WOOD
Vice President
- WILLIAM C. LONG
Secretary
- NORMAN L. PETERSON
Treasurer

Memorial Drive is a drive of many moods. And yet it is one drive. One may walk along the drive and see many different people, doing many different things in many different surroundings. A great many of those who live on Memorial Drive are rarely concerned about the differences in what is going on around them; they are conscious only of its unity. It is just Memorial Drive and it will be just Memorial Drive when the sun rises tomorrow morning.

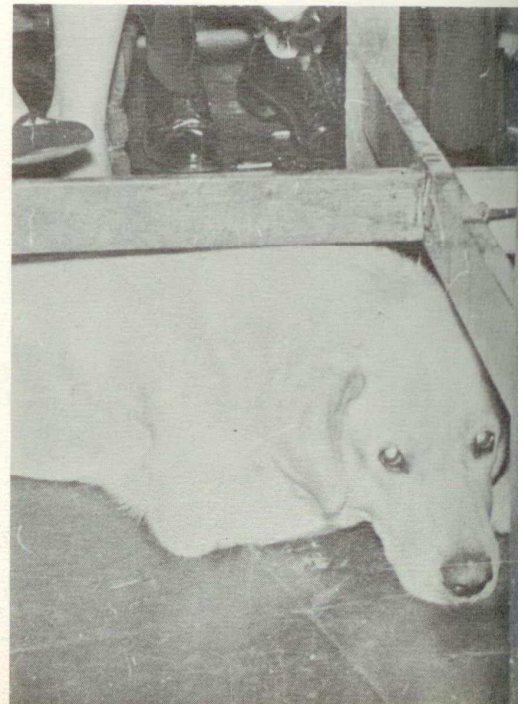

The house at 314 Memorial Drive is a house of many moods. And yet it is one house. In it, both Picasso and Currier and Ives hang on the walls, both Beethoven and Brubeck are heard, both English tweeds and gabardines are worn. The greatest achievement which occurred in this house this year was the realization of the importance of these differences, the differences which make up the unity which is considered so important. Some call it a rising spirit of individualism.

The men who live at 314 are men of many moods. And yet each is a man in himself. He is not a man trying to conform to the unity, but rather a man who is contributing himself to the whole. He takes pleasure at his similarities with his brethren, and in turn learns from his differences. This year he has been found in Tech Show, the Glee Club, Sailing, Track, Voo Doo, Debating, WTBS, and a number of other varied activities. This diversity in interests is due to the fact that his tastes and interests are not determined by the group in which he lives. He may be found at Katy Gibbs, Simmons, Wellesley, Radcliffe. He may spend his evening at Durgin-Park, Storyville, or at the skating rink. He is an individual, a free-thinker. His opportunities are unlimited. He is a Theta Delt.

A wand'ring minstrel, I

Herman . . . lost in a crowd

SENIORS:

Joseph J. Carty, DeWayne C. Ganow, Norman L. Peterson, Eugene Bloch, Walter A. Ray, Marshall Rogan, Paul E. Wood, Hans J. Hennecke.

JUNIORS:

Wade R. Brown, James M. Denker, Alexander F. Sigethy.

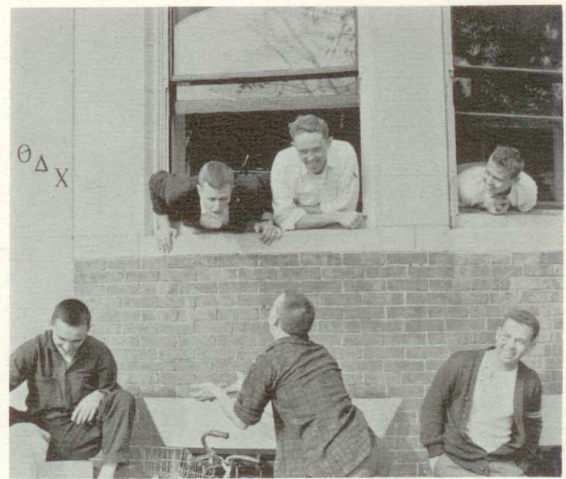

SOPHOMORES:

Donald S. Cromley, Neil Harper, Lief R. Johnson, William C. Long, Clarence H. Newberry, William A. Ross, Dwaine H. Smith, Frederic Yui Ming Wan.

FRESHMEN:

Raymond R. Ambrogi, Curtis A. Brown, Peter R. Cairns, Ralph A. Cuomo, George B. Felts, Vance E. Hoffman, Robert J. Keeney, George L. Kirk, Larry R. Martin, Craig D. Sawyer, Alan W. Starr.

theta deuteron charge

Diversified reactions to a diversified party

Caught in the act!